++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Largely cloudy but dry.

This Evening and Tonight:
Some clearer spells likely at first, but cloud spreading and thickening overnight to become generally overcast. Mostly dry, but perhaps the odd spot of drizzle by dawn, particularly for higher parts like the Lincolnshire Wolds. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Friday:
Another largely cloudy day for most areas, especially towards the coast. Western parts likely to see some brighter conditions and the best of any sunshine. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Remaining largely cloudy but dry into Saturday. Staying dry with more sunny spells into Sunday. Low confidence Monday, but likely cloudy with some rain possible later in the day.
